2. The thesis will be written and discussed in English.
3. The graduating student will be asked to sign a “confidentiality agreement”, according to the module approved by the Academic Senate, regarding confidential information, knowledge and materials, i.e. not accessible to the public, which are made available for the development of the thesis or any other final exam.

If the candidate has obtained the highest mark, cum laude may be awarded.

3. The criteria for determining the mark increases/decreases referred to in Letter b) of Paragraph 2 are decided by the Department of reference on the proposal of the DCTC, and according to the “Second cycle degree final marks and thesis” (Department site: www.economia.unipd.it).
4. The second cycle degree can also be obtained in less time than the usual duration of the degree course (two years).

Further specific indications will be defined in specific regulations approved by the DCTC.

Art. 10 — Credit recognition

1. In the case of transfer pursuant to Article 9, the University Educational Credits are recognised by the DCTC according to the following criteria:
 - a. If the student's second cycle degree course belongs to the same class, and provided that the directly recognised quota of University Educational Credits related to the same Disciplinary Scientific Sector specified in Annex 1 is equal to at least 50%, recognition results from the identification of educational activities set out in Annex 2 of the target second cycle degree course, while also providing for possible additional tests to verify knowledge. Other educational activities may also be recognised providing they are only in the field of optional credits. Non-recognition will be adequately justified by the DCTC. If the original degree course is delivered via distance learning, this must be credited pursuant to Ministerial Decree no. 47 of 30th January 2013.
 - b. If the student's degree course at the University of Padova belongs to a different class, and provided that the directly recognised quota of University Educational Credits related to the same Disciplinary Scientific Sector specified in Annex 1 is equal to at least 40%, recognition results from the identification of educational activities in Annex 2 of the target second cycle degree course of arrival, while also providing for possible additional tests to verify knowledge. Other educational activities may also be recognised providing they are only in the field of optional credits. Non-recognition will be adequately justified by the DCTC.
 - c. If the student's degree course belongs to a different university and is included in a different class, or delivered via distance learning but not accredited pursuant to Ministerial Decree no. 47 of 30th January 2013, recognition is based on a careful and accurate assessment of educational activities undertaken and completed by the student.
2. In the case of recognition, any marks will be awarded according to the following rules:
 - o In the case of one or more recognised exams, the average of achieved marks is recorded for one or more exams, weighted across the University Educational Credits if information exists, or calculated arithmetically and rounded up to the

- higher integer.
- In the case of an exam recognised as an exam plus another educational activity, the exam mark is retained for both activities.
- Exams taken at Military Academies, the University of the Vatican and the University of the Republic of San Marino are always registered with an approved mark.
- In other cases, the DCTC shall decide and justify which mark to award.

Art. 11 — Study plans

1. All Students are required to present their study plan by the deadlines indicated by the Department of reference of the second cycle degree course within the periods provided for by the Academic Calendar.
2. Educational activities autonomously chosen by the student, providing they are coherent with the educational programme and approved by the DCTC, can be chosen among the base, core and related course units provided by the University or, on the basis of specific agreements, by other universities and institutions. They are registered with their relevant mark and number of University Educational Credits. The mark contributes to determining the mark of the second cycle degree pursuant to Article 6, Paragraph 2 of these Regulations .
3. Students who ask to follow one of the study plans in Annex 3 must present the study plan within the deadline established annually by the Department of reference and according to the modalities established by the University.
4. Students who intend to follow a different educational path, subject to the limits set by the second cycle degree course structure, providing it is in the field of the educational activities actually provided and the established number of University Educational Credits, will have to present their study plan within the deadlines established annually by the Department of reference and in accordance with the methods established by the University. The study plan must be approved by the DCTC, after assessment by a Committee appointed by the DCTC, that will consider the needs for cultural education and professional preparation of the student and the specific educational aims of the second cycle degree course.
5. The study plans pursuant to Paragraph 1 may not show any overlaps in terms of the content of the various educational activities, even regarding those referred to in Article 10, Paragraph 5, Letter a) of Ministerial Decree 270/2004.
6. The study plan of students who are following an international mobility programme must be accompanied by the Learning Agreement which specifies the set of educational activities to be passed abroad and — correspondingly— the number of activities in the plan that will not be undertaken.
The two documents make up the international study plan of the student.
The international study plan can be updated on the basis of the documentation relative to the recognition process of studies undertaken abroad.
7. Students with disabilities are guaranteed the necessary support for any preparation of a customised study plan which, subject to the constraints imposed by the second cycle degree course structure, may provide for the substitution of obligatory educational activities with other activities deemed to be equivalent by the DCTC.

Art. 12 — Tutoring
